Item 12 Small Businesses

The SEC is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act to consider the effect of its regulations on small entities. In order to do this, we need to determine whether you meet the definition of "small business" or "small organization" under rule 0-7.

Answer this Item 12 only if you are registered or registering with the SEC and you indicated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) that you have regulatory assets under management of less than $25 million. You are not required to answer this Item 12 if you are filing for initial registration as a state adviser, amending a current state registration, or switching from SEC to state registration.

For purposes of this Item 12 only:

- Total Assets refers to the total assets of a firm, rather than the assets managed on behalf of clients. In determining your or another person's total assets, you may use the total assets shown on a current balance sheet (but use total assets reported on a consolidated balance sheet with subsidiaries included, if that amount is larger).
- Control means the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through ownership of securities, by contract, or otherwise. Any person that directly or indirectly has the right to vote 25 percent or more of the voting securities, or is entitled to 25 percent or more of the profits, of another person is presumed to control the other person.

4. Advisory Business

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc.(DCM) is an Anchorage, Alaska based investment advisory firm that has been in business since 1994. The President and Chief Investment Officer, and principal owner, is David R. Gottstein. There are six minority owners in the company. Three are active in the business, including employees, with the other three being passive owners.

DCM is the managing owner of a subsidiary business named Efficient Tax LLC. Its business is to license proprietary and patented investment management tools that helps other managers know when to sell taxable equity securities in a manner that helps to maximize client after-tax wealth.

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. is a separate account manager that specializes in assisting individual investors in reaching their retirement goals. Taking each investors risk tolerances and investment goals into account. We assist in the development of a client or client prospect's overall asset allocation, in order to maximize whatever complimentary role we might offer in terms of an investor's overall wealth management program. DCM manages both taxable and non-taxable accounts, that may include equity and bond allocations. Clients may direct specific investments.

DCM is independently research based in its stock selection process, and focusses on larger capitalization U.S. domestic stocks with a strong value bias. For equity allocations, it attempts to take the least amount of risk necessary in order to capture equity returns. Using sophisticated proprietary quantitative valuation models, it assesses entry and exit prices on an individual equity security by security basis. Diversifying through the selection most often of between 60 to 80 individual larger capitalization stocks that are under-valued. Diversified by an exposure to international securities via mutual funds, index funds and ETF's, as authorized by the client.

On a quantitative basis, we assess, on over 600 individual companies, what a company earns per share on a fully diluted operating earnings basis, how much it will likely grow its earnings over the next four years, what will the market pay for future earnings in terms of price earnings multiple, the dividend amount, and its dividend growth prospects. The resulting compound rate of return potential from a stocks current price, to its price target, including dividends, forms the basis upon which we make our purchase and sell decisions. With special consideration to the tax economics of each client's holdings with the goal of maximizing long-term after-tax wealth generation.

Fixed income exposure will usually come in the form of individual U.S. Treasury, municipal, and corporate bonds with a AA bond rating or higher. As well as a variety of mutual funds and other high quality fixed income investment instruments. We try to avoid credit and maturity risk.

5. Fees and Compensation

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. is a fee based investment advisory firm that receives all its fees and revenue as a percentage of the assets under management.

Fees for Investment Management of Equity and Balanced accounts are:

$0 to $3,000,000	1.0% Annual Rate
Next $7,000,000	0.8% Annual Rate
Over $10,000,000	0.65% Annual Rate
	Subject to Negotiation

Fees are calculated for each preceding calendar quarter based on the average monthly market value (as determined by Dynamic Capital Management) of the assets in the account. Fees for Advisor Services for any period which is less than a full quarter shall be prorated on a daily basis. Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. is not compensated on the basis of share of capital appreciation or through any commission or other fee than herein described.

This fee schedule may change with ninety (90) days advance notice. This schedule was last revised on July 1, 1994.

Upon authorization from client, fees are billed directly to custodian on a quarterly basis, following the quarter of service. Notification to clients of fee amounts billed are distributed in the quarterly statements following the month of billing. Clients may choose to be billed directly. But as is standard in the industry, none of our clients has chosen to pay in that manner.

Clients will incur brokerage, and associated custodial costs. Brokers are chosen by the client, with guidance from advisor to have a low cost relationship with a qualified broker.

 For example we have a client with over $2,500,000 in money under management, where we manage the account as a 50% stock and 50% bond portfolio where we charge 0.75% per year.

6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Not Applicable as Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. engages in neither activity.

7. Types of Clients

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc.'s clients range from relatively small investors to high net worth individuals. Most of our clients have not met their retirement goals and are in need of conservative equity management in order to get there in as safe a manner as possible. But we also manage accounts for a select number of high net worth individuals, as well as corporate pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, and charitable foundations. Our account size minimum is $100,000.

8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Dynamic Capital Management is a large capitalization value manager. In addition to what was detailed under 4. Advisory Business, DCM attempts to add after fee performance by being able to, on an at-will basis, screen stocks for most attractiveness in terms of annual return potential, on a risk adjusted basis. We do this by comparing current prices against future price targets on over 600 larger capitalization companies, including members of the S&P500, the Nasdaq100, plus about 100 Real Estate Investment Trusts. Plus a small variety of large multi-national companies familiar to most investors. We purchase when we believe there are material excess returns available, and we sell, when they evaporate, either due to a price rising, or prospects changing, or any combination thereof. Special sell considerations are assessed for taxable portfolios. Our attention to not only the purchase decision, but the sell decision, led us to develop our patented analysis for determining when to sell a taxable security called Efficient Tax. It represents a classic break-even analysis that assesses when the opportunity for reinvesting after-tax proceeds at a projected higher rate of return versus a hold, will allow the investor to recoup tax costs, and achieve greater after-tax returns over time.

We are a bottom up stock selection firm, but we pay close attention to macro market forces as well. Almost all of our clients grant us discretion to not be fully invested all the time, in order to avoid being fully invested during times when there is extra risk in the markets than is normal. Wealth preservation is a critical goal. We cannot eliminate stock market risk, to the extent we have invested in stocks for the client, but we can mitigate risk by being in less risky investments by purchasing companies when they are relatively cheap, and by being out of the market somewhat when it is over-valued. Further exhibited through the use of our quantitative risk models. Equity markets contain material risk at times, and that risk can only be reduced, but not eliminated. Except by exiting the equity markets altogether.

We are investors and not traders. Our average holding time is one to three years. That does not mean that if a stock performs very well in a short period of time, and a stock becomes fully or over-valued, that a sale would not take place. Particularly in a non-taxable portfolio. Other tax considerations apply for taxable accounts where short and long-term gains and losses are duly and appropriately assessed. A loss can offset a gain and reduce an otherwise tax liability.

In order to properly diversify, many clients authorize us to deploy a portion of their portfolios in mutual funds and other securities that invest in foreign countries. This will add to the cost of management fees as fund fees will be added to the fees we charge in terms of the overall impact on the portfolio. We don't buy load mutual funds, and we use Morningstar to help inform us as to which funds add value after fees and commissions.

We do not attempt to take credit risk in the bond market, and use bonds in balanced portfolios in order to reduce risk, and provide a modicum of income. We stick with higher grade issues, as referenced above, and maintain shorter than normal duration or maturity lengths when there are above average prospects for rising interest rates.

The stock market is a volatile market, and can see wide swings in valuation. We attempt to transcend much of the risk by working hard to purchase good companies at cheap prices. However history shows, losses of up to 40% during a single year, or a market cycle, are not out of the question. And even though all major market corrections have been followed by bull market over time, that doesn't not guarantee that losses suffered will not be permanent. Investors should be aware of these risks, and recognize that returns in excess of bond returns are not promised by the stock market, but rather offered to intelligent investors over time as an opportunity.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

9. Disciplinary Information

Not Applicable, as Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. has never been the subject of any disciplinary action or claim against it.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Not Applicable as Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. has no relationships with any person or entity that may in any way come in conflict with the best interests of its clients.

11. Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Clients Transactions and Personal Trading

Dynamic Capital Management does not trade for its own account, and never has. It reserves the right to do so in the future. If it does so, it will wait a day before purchasing from the first date that a security was purchased on behalf of one or more clients. And it will wait to sell until one day after it begins to sell securities on behalf of its clients. Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. manages a retirement account for one of its employees, and includes the purchases and sales for that employee in the bloc trades it does on behalf of other clients with assets held at the same broker. That employee does not make any investment decisions.

12. Brokerage Practices

Brokerage services are for the sole benefit of the client. We advise clients to use low cost brokerage firms such as online discount brokers. In order to help the client achieve after fee performance. It is a client decision as to which broker is used. We advise them that what we are looking for from a broker on their behalf are good executions, low transaction or commission costs, and a good service team. We have client accounts spread across a half dozen different brokerage houses. Based upon client preferences. We from time to time, for local residents only, suggest that they might consider using a discount broker that maintains an office locally, in order to facilitate their contact, and the processing of deposits and withdrawals.

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc., has no soft-dollar relationships, and it utilizes no brokerage research on a regular basis. Clients pay no commission for third party research. We do our own independent research on the stocks we purchase on behalf of our clients. Any research costs are born by Dynamic Capital Management, Inc.

In recommending brokerage services to a client, Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. receives no compensation in any form from any broker.

In brokerage relationships where they allow for aggregated bloc transactions across multiple clients, we utilize that service for efficiency reasons when we have multiple clients. We then make an allocation, when notified by the broker that the trade is complete, on an account by account basis.

13. Review of Accounts

David Gottstein, the Chief Investment Officer of Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. reviews portfolios on a weekly and monthly basis for additions and deletions or sales from portfolios. Usually every week, or at a minimum twice a month, our universe of stocks included in our research base, are ranked from the most to least attractiveness in terms of return potential. Portfolios where there is room to add stocks up to asset allocations and market timing considerations, are populated with investment grade candidates at the end of a research and stock selection process. Sales can be done at any time when price or other considerations indicate the rewards relative to the risks maintained, no longer suggest that a position should be held.

Each client is provided a statement on a quarterly basis. A statement will include an Account Appraisal, Realized Gains & Losses, Income & Expenses, and a copy of Dynamic Capital Management billings regarding the account.

14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Not Applicable as Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. receives no form of compensation other than for fee based asset management services, and provides no compensation or reward to any person or entity for any client referrals.

15. Custody

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. maintains no custody of client assets. All client assets are held in custody at the brokerage firm of their choice. Clients receive quarterly statements from Dynamic Capital Management, Inc., which should be compared with statements received from the broker/custodian.

16. Investment Discretion

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. maintains investment discretion regarding the purchase and sale of securities on behalf of clients. We have a Limited Power of Attorney(LPOA) authorized at the time of engagement. Clients have prior receipt of appropriate ADV disclosures, and other pertinent information, including performance history, provided to the client prospect by Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. We, when requested by the client or client prospect, assist the investor in their asset allocation decisions, using whatever information that may be provided by the investor.

17. Voting Client Securities

Dynamic Capital Management, Inc. votes proxies on behalf of its clients. Unless otherwise directed by a client, by a method of their choosing, all proxies for all clients are voted in the same manner. A client may request that voted proxies be copied and delivered to them at any time. There have never been any conflicts in the voting of proxies. Should a client wish us to vote on their behalf, differently than we are voting for other clients, we see no conflict, as a separate account manager, in voting the wishes of an individual client.
